CONCENTRATION OF ENEMY ON GREEK FRONTIER CONTINUES. German Warship Reported Sunk by Mine-Austrian Gun Plant Destroyed

HUNS ARE THREATENING THE ROUMANIAN PEOPLE

Would Force Them to Allies.

Enemy Forces Concentrating Upon Greek Frontiers.

While recent reports of the actual opening of an offensive move-ment by the Tsutonic allies against Saloniki appear to have been premature, the cables continue to bring accounts of various trop movements held in military quarters to indicase that such an offen-sive is probably not far distant. Attens despatches to-day tell of continued concentration of German, Austrian and Bulgarian forces on the Greek frontier, together with the transfer of heavy artillery southward from Nish.

With such a movement in the Balkans in prospect, the reports that come cut of Roumania command increasing interest. Advices from Allied sources declare that the friction between Roumains and the Central Powers has increased, and that Roumania, supposedly in view of the reported threatening attitude of Germany and Austria, has collected forces close to the Austro-Hungarian frontier.

There is a paucity of news of active operations in any of the war fields, probably for the good reason that few important moves are now actually in progress. The chief capitals of the Entents Allies, however, appear to be impressed with the idea that an important oftensive is shortly to be begun by the Germans in the west. The heller in promodel largely by the military movements noted along the Franco-Belgian front in secent days, considered to presage something out of the ordinary.

No change in the situation in Mesopotamia is indicated, the British relief army being still stalled on the Tigris, some distance down the river from Kut-el-Amara, it appears. (Contaued on Page 11)

Authorization for the Tager Battallon, the next overseas unit to be recruited in Hamilton, has been announced and it is altogether likely that within a few weeks recruiting for it will be under way. It has been an open accret for several weeks that the Tigers would organize a Battalion and it was also open gossip that several well-known Hamilton men would go with the unit. In both instances were the public right, but at the request of the authorities as little publication as possible was given until they gave the word.

"I Have Never Been In Favor of Prohibition"

CONNIE MACK

In reference to what the Citizens' Committee of One Hundred said some days ago under the heading "Sign up with Connie Mack" as to the attitude of professional baseball players towards Teetotalism and Prohibition, it may be of interest to state that Connie Mack, who is the Manager of the Philadelphia. Americans, winners of the American League Championship five time in ten years and of the world's Championship three times, and who has developed more stars than any other manager, writes: "It have never been in favor of Prohibition, and those who are using my name to further the interest of Prohibition are doing me a great injustice."

HUGHEY JENNINGS

also cited by the Citizens' Committee, Manager for the last eight years of the Detroit Tigers (winners of the pennant three years in succession), member of the "Big Four," and considered the best fielder of his day, telegraphs: I am not a strictly Temperance man. I feel that the use of my name by the Prohibition people without asking my consent is presuming too much. I don't care to sail under false colors by holding myself out as a Tectotaller or in favor of Prohibition."

TY COBB

It is absolutely untrue to say that Ty Cobb is a Teetotaller and Prohibitionist.

But why do the Citizens' Committee overlook other baseball players whose records equal, if they do not excel, those of the ones cited? For example:

Willie

Bill

Wilbert

the most famous batsman of the world—in fact the only player given the credit of being able to place a ball in the field wherever he desired—member of the "Big Four" of Baltimore (pennant, winners but times), and for many seasons with Brooklyn, his record being better than 300 for 14 consecutive seasons in Major League ball, a record not approached by even the great Ty Cobb minself; who telegraphs: "Always drank a little and always will."

who graduated from the Toronto Ball Club, which he helped to win championally, to the Boston World's Champion Team, of which he manager, and who is considered the brainiest back-stop in basebalt, they have high lensure; find very few ball players Twe allers, and have yet to see bad vesults from its use on World's Champion."

Jos. J.

Kelly

Ilbert

Manager of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, and one of the best know coaches, who was formerly with the old Baltimore team and coache the New York Giants, developing Terreau, Marquard, and other at pitchers, who telegraphs "After a ball game a few drinks of relax tive are beneficial to the trained athlets."

Frank "Ike"

Connect Up the Thought With These Facts-

Most of the Furniture in the February sale of 1916 is new iture, now being shown for the first time.

Every piece of Furniture, in the store is offered at a low bruary price. These prices will be removed at the end of month, and the higher, normal figures replaced. This is

In the sale is furniture of all kinds, and while not a little of it is what is called popular-priced furniture, none of it is cheap or shoddy. We are very careful about that.

The February Sales of

Rugs, Bedding and Draperies

Are Also Very Important

And all these things become still more important when considered in the light of our Club Service of deferred pay-ments, the details of which you are very welcome to if you will plone or call upon our Club manager.

These four sales—Furniture, rugs, bedding and drap-eries—are being conducted upon the Third, Fourth and Fifth Floors of the store.
